

DOWNTOWN CULTURE WALK

Saturday, April 29, 2017
11am – 6pm

Downtown Culture Walk is a self-guided walking tour presented by the SoHo Arts Network (SAN), highlighting the non-profit art spaces in the SoHo and downtown neighborhoods. SAN celebrates the rich history of our unique creative community and collectively shares our distinct cultural contributions with neighborhood residents and visitors. On April 29, members of SAN will open their doors for Downtown Culture Walk, inviting participants to discover the non-profit art spaces in the neighborhood. Walkthroughs, talks, open hours, and other programming will be offered that day for free or reduced admission.

- 1. The Sylvia Wald & Po Kim Art Gallery
417 Lafayette St.
Open 11am – 6pm
Special Program 11am and 4pm

The Sylvia Wald & Po Kim Art Gallery will present Paper Revelation, an exhibition of contemporary works in, on, and of paper in two-dimensional, three-dimensional, and video formats by five Korean artists. Works by Sup Ham, Jeong Min Suh, Ilhwa Kim, Sung Hee Cho, and Won Ha will be on view all day on the fourth floor gallery. The artists explore the versatility of the centuries-old Korean paper tradition while translating their inspirations onto paper and altering the nature of the medium. At 11am and 4pm, there will be walkthroughs led by Assistant Director, Ann Thurmond, of Paper Revelation as well as the installation of works by Po Kim and Sylvia Wald on view in the seventh floor gallery.

- 2. Center for Architecture – AIA New York Chapter
536 LaGuardia Pl.
Open 11am – 5pm
Special Program 11:30pm

At 11:30am, The Center for Architecture will host a walkthrough of its current exhibition, Architecture of Independence: African Modernism, which presents over 700 photographs, as well as archival materials, historical photos, newspaper clippings, postcards, videos, plans, and sketches, documenting the ambivalences of decolonization, its contradictions, and inconsistencies, but also its ambitions, aims, and aspirations.

- 3. The Renee & Chaim Gross Foundation
526 LaGuardia Pl.
Open 11am – 6pm
Special Program 12pm

The Renee & Chaim Gross Foundation will host open hours of the historic home and studio of American sculptor Chaim Gross (1904-91). The current temporary exhibition on view is Building Identity: Chaim Gross and Artists' Homes & Studios in New York City, 1953-74. At 12pm, a walkthrough focusing on the historic installation of the collection will be given by Interim Director, Sasha Davis.

- 4. HarvestWorks
596 Broadway #602
Open 12pm – 6pm

Harvestworks will present Seven Futures by Taeyoon Choi and Christine Sun Kim. For this installation, the artists came up with seven potential futures and gave form to them as wind chimes with electronics and motors. As each wind chime creates sound in various speeds, they will gradually become one collective and intersectional future, in both controlled and abstract senses.

- 5. ICP Museum
250 Bowery
Open 10am – 6pm

The International Center of Photography (ICP) Museum will offer $4 off general admission tickets. The exhibition Perpetual Revolution: The Image and Social Change will be on view. Perpetual Revolution: The Image and Social Change offers an examination of endless new streams of provocative, powerful, and sometimes frightening media images and their connections to social upheaval and transformation. 10% discount in the ICP Museum shop.

- 6. New Museum
235 Bowery
Open 11am – 6pm

New Museum will host open hours of their exhibition, Lynette Yiadom-Boakye: Under-Song For A Cipber. This exhibition brings together a selection of works by British artist Lynette Yiadom-Boakye, a 2013 Turner Prize finalist and one of the most renowned painters of her generation. Her lush oil paintings embrace many of the conventions of historical European portraiture, but expand on that tradition by engaging fictional subjects who often serve as protagonists of the artist's short stories as well.

- 7. Dia: The New York Earth Room
141 Wooster St.
Open 11am to 6pm
(Closed 3pm – 3:30pm)

Dia Art Foundation commissioned and maintains Walter De Maria's installations The New York Earth Room (1977) and The Broken Kilometer (1979) in New York City. Both of these installations have been on view for over 30 years. Visitors can experience these installations free of charge.

- 8. Emily Harvey Foundation
537 Broadway 2F
Open 11am – 6pm
Special Program 2pm

The Emily Harvey Foundation (EHF) will host a special screening of Jean Dupuy's early collective performance concerts along with a selection of his works from the EHF collection. Marking an extraordinary moment of collaboration among some of the leading artists of this generation, these "collective performance" videos capture a unique and radically interdisciplinary moment in the history of the 1970s. In them, we witness an intersection of means and talents, an organized series of actions and contributions wholly unlike the modes of collaborative practice that came earlier (e.g. in Fluxus) or later (the broader field of Art Performance as we know it today).

- 9. Judd Foundation
101 Spring St.
Open 11am – 6pm

In 1968, Donald Judd purchased 101 Spring Street, a five-story cast-iron building designed by Nicholas Whyte and constructed in 1870. Serving as his New York home and studio, 101 Spring Street is the place of origin for Judd's ideas on permanent installation and is the last surviving single-use cast-iron building of its era in the SoHo Cast-Iron Historic District. The first and second floors of 101 Spring Street will be open for self-guided viewing. Judd Foundation artist guides will be on hand to answer questions.

- 10. Storefront for Art and Architecture
97 Kenmare St.
Open 11am – 6pm

Storefront for Art and Architecture will host open hours of their current exhibition, Control Syntax Rio. In response to catastrophic natural disasters, calamitous traffic congestion, and urban health epidemics in Rio de Janeiro, the Centro de Operações Rio (COR) was designed as a corrective tool and as a new command and control hub that would allow the city to prepare for the 2016 Olympic Games. Curated by Farzin Lotfi-Jam and Mark Wasiuta, the exhibition shows the city of Rio structured through COR's control syntax and smart city command processes.

- 13. The Drawing Center
35 Wooster St.
Open 12pm – 6pm
Special Program 3:30pm

The Drawing Center will host open hours of their exhibition, Exploratory Works: Drawings from the Department of Tropical Research Field Expeditions, free of charge. This exhibition brings to light, for the first time, an archive of images that illustrate the formation of our modern definition of nature by William Beebe (1877–1962), one of America's greatest popularizers of ecological thinking and biological science. At 3:30pm, there will be an exhibition walkthrough with Brett Littman, The Drawing Center's Executive Director.

- 14. Recess
41 Grand St.
Open 12pm – 6pm

Artist Am Schmidt will be participating in Recess's signature program, Session, with a project entitled Recess, May 21, 2014. Session invites artists to use Recess's public platform to combine productive studio space with dynamic exhibition opportunities. Sessions remain open to the public from the first day of the artist's project through the last, encouraging sustained dialogue between artists and audiences. The artist will be present at Recess from 12pm to 6pm to discuss her work in progress.

- 15. Leslie-Lohman Museum of Gay and Lesbian Art
26 Wooster St.
Open 11am – 6pm
Special Program 4pm

The inaugural exhibition in Leslie-Lohman Museum of Gay and Lesbian Art's newly renovated and vastly expanded exhibition space, Expanded Visions: Fifty Years of Collecting, is a historic collection show with approximately 250 works on view. The exhibition presents a survey of the collection initiated by the Museum's co-founders, Charles Leslie and Fritz Lohman, who have spent more than 50 years amassing artworks that speak directly to the LGBTQ experience. Their early efforts yielded a unique archive of work that would have otherwise been lost or destroyed, making up the core of the Museum's expansive collection. At 4pm, there will be a walkthrough by Museum staff.

- 16. apexart
291 Church St.
Open 11am – 6pm
Special Program 4:30pm

Tired of cooking the same old recipes? Learn some tips and tricks to improve your creativity in the kitchen in Outlaw Kitchen. This demo-presentation will offer new ways to bring flavorful herbs and herbal infusions into your favorite dishes, oils, and beverages. This event is in conjunction with the exhibition Outlaw Glass, organized by David Bienenstock, which examines work from leading functional glass artists.

- 17. Soho Photo Gallery
15 White St.
Open 11am – 6pm
Special Program 5pm

SoHo Photo Gallery will present an exhibition of work by member David Kutz. At 5:00pm, there will be an artist talk by Kutz, titled The Stranger's Path. Inspired by an essay titled The Stranger's Path by the renowned American geographer, J.B. Jackson, and the great panoramas of the early 19th-century, this 21-foot long, 210-degree panoramic work considers the commonality of the modern travel experience.
